Address by:

His Excellency President Olusegun Obasanjo

On the occasion of the formal signing into Law of the Corrupt Practices and other related offences Act 2000 at Abuja. Tuesday 13 June 2000.

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you all to this very important and indeed historic moment in the life of our nation. It is our firm hope and belief that the signing into law of the Anti-Corruption Bill will mark a turning point in all the major aspects of our lives, individually, collectively, economically, politically and socially.

During our campaign we promised total war against corruption. Corruption was identified as the number one enemy of development and progress. Combating corruption was easily the number one priority action for our Administration. Thus, no sooner than we got into office, this Bill became the one piece of legislation to be promptly sent to the National Assembly.

As we all know, corruption is cankerworm that has eaten into the fabric of our society at every level. It has caused decay and dereliction within the infrastructure of government and the society in physical, social and human terms.

Corruption has been responsible for the instability of successive governments since the First Republic. Every coup since then has been in the name of stamping out the disease called corruption. Unfortunately, the cure often turned out to be worse than the disease. And Nigeria has been the worse for it. Nigeria's external image took a serious bashing, as our beloved country began to feature on top of every corruption index.

The crusade against corruption was a major plank of the PDP election manifesto and we relentlessly proclaimed this message during the campaign. We fully accept the overwhelming victory at the polls as a mandate to fight corruption to a standstill. We must tackle it head-on for our country to make any meaningful economic progress.

With corruption, there can be no sustainable development, nor political stability. By breeding and feeding on inefficiency, corruption invariably strangles the system of social organization.

In fact, corruption is literally the anti-thesis of development and progress. Of course, we realize that corruption covers a wide spectrum of acts and not just the simple act of giving and receiving of bribes. Corruption covers such act as:

- * use of one's office for pecuniary advantage,
- * gratification,
- * influence peddling,
- * insincerity in advice with the aim of gaining advantage,

- * less than a full day's work for a full day's pay,
- * tardiness and slovenliness.

We acknowledge that we may not be able to eradicate corruption in its totality overnight, but we can at least begin by laying down the foundation of a moral and ethical society. Ethics and morality are the norms of every decent society and we must begin to acknowledge their importance in our own society as the bedrock on which a wholesome, efficient, just and prosperous entity can be built.

It is worth noting that this Act makes it an offence to fail to report the offer of inducement in any form. Another aspect worth noting is that of the Office of a Special Counsel. This is a welcome dimension which was contributed by the National Assembly. The Special Counsel will be appointed by the Chief Justice, whose office and personality will not allow for frivolity, so there is no fear of abuse. I personally endorse the idea of a Special Counsel because it means that no Nigerian, from the President to the lowest peasant, is exempted from being investigated under this Law to a large extent, if faithfully, implemented this Act ought to substantially clean our society of the menace and evil of corruption. The society should be considerably sanitized by it. It is the toughest anti-corruption law in the history of our nation. It thus incorporates the spirit of national rebirth which is the driving principle of our Administration.

But let it be said here and now that grand corruption has always involved our foreign trading friends as well.

Let it be known that this Anti-Corruption law demonstrates our unequivocal commitment to rid our land of corruption. We call our foreign friends to please respect the laws of our land, and to understand our determination to improve the wholesomeness of our nation and society. We will show appreciation to friends who are willing to help and respect us. But we are not beholden to anybody in our drive to put things right in our country.

We will not mind whose ox is gored. We will not maintain double standard one for Nigerians and another for expatriates who may erroneously believe they are higher or better animals than Nigerians and could thus dictate to us or pressurize us to do what is wrong.

I thank the National Assembly for passing the bill. It is a landmark act that all Nigerians should be proud of and happy to sign it into law. I will now proceed with maximum dispatch to establish the Anti-Corruption Commission.

I believe that the implementation of this Act will go a long way in purifying our society. I commend the spirit of this law to all Nigerians who desire to live in a sane, just, decent and progressive society.

I thank you. And may God bless you all.

- (2) Where the Chairman of the Commission has reasonable grounds to believe that any Public Officer who has been served with the written notice referred to in sub-section (1) owns, possesses, controls or holds any interest in any property which is excessive, having regard to his present or past emoluments and all other relevant circumstances, the Chairman may by written direction require him to furnish a statement on oath or affirmation explaining how he was able to own, possess, control or hold such excess and if he fails to explain satisfactorily such excess, he shall be presumed to have used his office to corruptly enrich or gratify himself and charged accordingly;
- (3) Every person to whom a notice or direction is sent by the Chairman under this section shall state the truth and disclose all information which is within his knowledge, or which is available to him, or which is capable of being obtained by him;
- (4) Where any person discloses any information or produces any accounts, documents or records, in response to a notice under sub-section (1) such person, his agent or employee, or any other person acting on his behalf or under his direction, shall not, by reason only of such disclosure or production, be liable to prosecution for any offence or civil claim under or by virtue of any law, contract, agreement or arrangement or otherwise;
PROVIDED THAT Sub-section (4) shall not bar, prevent or prohibit the institution of prosecution for any offence provided by this section or for giving false evidence in relation to any statement on oath or affirmation furnished to the Chairman of the Commission pursuant to this section; or as provided for in section 27(1) of this Act. 45;
- (1) Where the Chairman of the Commission is satisfied on information given to him by an officer of the Commission that any movable property, including any monetary instrument or any accretion thereto which is the subject of the matter of any investigation under this Act or evidence in relation to the commission of such offence, is in the possession, custody or control of a bank or financial institution, he may, notwithstanding, any other written law to the contrary by order direct the bank or financial institution not to part with, deal in, or otherwise dispose of such property or any part thereof until the other is revoked or varied;

- (2) No bank, agent or employee of a bank shall on account of such compliance, be liable to any prosecution to any civil proceeding or claim by any person under or by virtue of any law, contract, agreement, or arrangement or otherwise;
- (3) Any person who fails to comply with an order of the Chairman of the Commission under sub-section (1) shall be guilty of an offence and shall on conviction be liable to a fine not exceeding two times the amount which was paid out in contravention of the Chairman's order or fifty thousand naira, whichever is the higher and to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two (2) years;
- (4) The subject-matter of an offence under this Act or evidence of the commission of such offence shall be liable to seizure and the seizure shall be effected; (a) by the issuance of a Notice or Seizure signed by the Chairman of the Commission or any other person authorized by him setting out therein the particulars of the immovable property which is to be seized in so far as such particular are within his knowledge, and prohibiting all dealings in such immovable property, and (b) by publishing a copy of such Notice in two newspapers circulating in Nigeria which shall be in the English Language; and (c) by serving a copy of such Notice on the officer of the Ministry of lands of the Area in which immovable property is situate.
- (5) The officer responsible for land matters referred to in subsection (4)(c) shall immediately upon being served with a Notice of Seizure under subsection (1) endorse the terms of the notice of seizure on the document of title in respect of the immovable property in the Register at his Office.

46. Where the Chairman of the Commission is satisfied that any property is the subject matter of an offence under this Act or was used in the commission of the offence, and such property is held or deposited outside Nigeria, he may make an application by way of an affidavit to a Judge of the High Court for an order prohibiting the person by whom the property is held or with whom it is deposited from dealing with the property.

47. (1) In any prosecution for an offence under this Act, the court shall make an order for the forfeiture of any property which is proved to be the subject-matter of the offence or to have been used in the commission of the offence where
- (a) the offence is proved against the accused; or
 - (b) the offence is not proved against the accused but the court is satisfied;
 - (i) that the accused is not the true and lawful owner of such property; and
 - (ii) that no other person is entitled to the property as a purchaser in good faith for valuable consideration.
- (2) Where the offence is proved against the accused but the property referred to in subsection (1) has been disposed of, or cannot be traced, the court shall order the accused to pay as a penalty a sum which is equivalent to the amount of the gratification or is, in the opinion of the court, the value of the gratification received by the accused, and any such penalty shall be recoverable as a fine.
48. (1) Where in respect of any property seized under this Act or other grounds there is no prosecution or conviction for an offence under this for forfeiture of Act, the Chairman of the Commission may, before the expiration of twelve months from the date of the seizure, apply to a Judge of the High Court for an order of forfeiture of that property if he is satisfied that such property had been obtained as a result of or in connection with an offence under sections 8 to 19.
- (2) The Judge to whom an application is made under subsection (1) shall direct to be published a notice in the Gazette and in at least two newspapers circulating in Nigeria, which shall be in English Language calling upon any person who claims to have an interest in the property to appear before that Court on a date specified in the notice, to show cause why the property should not be forfeited to the Government.
- (3) Where the Judge to whom an application is made under subsection (1) is satisfied:
- (a) that the property is the subject matter of or was used in the commission of an offence under this Act; and
 - (b) there is no purchaser in good faith for valuable consideration of the property, he shall make an order for the forfeiture of the property.

- (4) Any property in respect of which no application is made under subsection (1) shall, after the expiration of twelve months from the date of its seizure, be released to the person from whom it was seized.
49. Where any property has been seized under this Act, and so long as such seizure remains in force, any dealing effected by any person or between any persons in respect of such property, except any dealing effected under this Act or by virtue of this Act by an officer of a public body in his capacity as such officer, or otherwise by or on behalf of the Government of Nigeria, or the Government of a State, or a Local Government or other statutory authority, shall be null and void, and shall not be registered or otherwise given effect to by any person or authority.
- 50 (1) Notwithstanding any written law to the contrary, the Chairman of the Commission may upon a court order where he has reasonable grounds to believe that any person who is the subject of investigation in respect of any offence under this Act is likely to leave Nigeria, by written notice require such person to surrender his passport or exit permit or any other travel documents in his possession.
- (2) A notice under subsection (1) shall be served personally on the person whom it is addressed.
51. (1) The Chairman of the commission may at any time amend or revoke any order which has been made or given by him in exercise of any power conferred on him under this Act. PROVIDED THAT the revocation of any such notice or order shall not debar the Chairman of the Commission from issuing any fresh orders or notices, against any person or thing affected by the earlier order or notice.
- (2) The revocation or amendment of an order or notice under sub-section (1) may contain consequential, ancillary or incidental matters relevant to such revocation or amendment.
52. (1) When an allegation of corruption or anything purporting to contravene any provision of this Act is made against the President or the Vice President of Nigeria or against any State Governor or Deputy Governor, the Chief Justice of the Federation shall, if satisfied that sufficient cause has been shown upon an application on notice supported by an affidavit setting out the facts on which the allegation is based, authorize an independent counsel (who shall be a legal practitioner of not less than fifteen years standing) to investigate the allegation and make a report of his finds to the National Assembly in the case of the President or Vice President and to the relevant State House of Assembly in the case of the State Governor or Deputy Governor.

- (2) The Commission shall be enjoined to fully co-operate with such independent counsel and provide all facilities necessary for such independent counsel to carry out his functions.
