Foreword

In collaboration with Ministry of Trade and Industry, Ministry of Public Service and labor and Private Sector Federation, the National Institute of Statistics of Rwanda (NISR) is pleased to publish herein the final results of the 2011 Establishment Census. This Census has been implemented in Rwanda for the first time, with the aim of creating a quantitative profile of all establishments in the country, excluding governmental establishments providing not-for-sale governmental services.

The establishment Census has provided a comprehensive data base that will be utilized in creating business registers and in conducting future business surveys. Furthermore, the census returns have led to an objective definition of formal/informal sectors in Rwanda which is included in Chapter Nine of this publication.

The Census collaborating organizations mentioned above are full of hope that the census results would help decision makers setting forth policies and programs that would accelerate the pace of development of nonagricultural economic sectors of Rwanda. In addition, it is hoped that interested research communities would find the census results bridging a long existed information gap for further in-depth policy-oriented economic studies.

NISR and its collaborators would like to express their appreciation and gratitude to the Census management team at NISR, and staff members of the collaborating organizations who have been involved in the design and implementation of this important project. Moreover, the cooperation of establishment managers/owners throughout the country was instrumental in making this project a real success; our greatest thanks are due to all of them.

Diane KARUSISI
Acting Director General of NISR

1.8- Legal Status

The most common type of legal status is “sole proprietorship” which accounts for 90.8 percent of all operating business establishments in Rwanda. In contrast, the prevalence of business establishments with a legal status of “limited by shares” is as low as 2.0 percent. The legal status of “others”, comprising nonprofit establishments and cooperatives, is prevalent only among 6.9 percent of all functional establishments in Rwanda. Although the legal status pattern is more or less similar in all provinces, Kigali City has as more than twice of “limited by shares” business establishments (4.4 percent) as the national average (Table 1.8 and Graph 1.7).

1.9- Capital employed

The vast majority of establishments in Rwanda are small in terms of capital employed, the prevalence of establishments with less than 0.5 million FRW is as high as 73.2 percent. In the same time, the relatively bigger establishments, with capital employed exceeds 15 million FRW, accounts for 2.6 percent of all operating establishments in the country. With the exception of Kigali City, the pattern of capital employed is approximately similar in other provinces. Kigali City, however, tends to favor bigger establishments than other provinces (Table 1.9 and Graph 1.7)

At the national level, mean capital employed of an operating establishment reaches approximately 16.3 million FRW. Noteworthy is that this figure is deceptive to large extent as a measure of central tendency since the vast majority of establishments (about 73.2 percent) has an average capital employed below 0.5 million FRW, whereas only 0.9 percent of establishments has an average capital employed exceed 75 million FRW( Table 1.10).

1.10- Employment

The greatest majority of establishments in Rwanda (92.6 percent) are micro, i.e. having 1-3 workers. Small establishments, with 4-30 employed persons, represent about 6.9 percent of all establishments in the country. The medium (31-100) and large (101+) account for 0.4 and 0.1 percent of all establishments respectively. Apart from Kigali City, other provinces are nearly alike as far as the pattern of employment size category is concerned. Kigali, nonetheless, tends to favor larger establishments compared with other provinces (Table 1.11 and Graph 1.8)

Moreover, the volume of in-establishment employment amounts to 281.9 thousand employed persons. The contribution of different size categories to the overall employment volume ranges from 34.6 thousand workers for medium establishments to 89.2 thousand workers for micro establishments (Table 1.12)

1.13- Registration

Table 1.15 and Graph 1.9 present the level of registration at Social Security Fund, Rwanda Revenue Authority (RRA), Rwanda Development Board (RDB), Private Sector Federation (PSF), administrative district and administrative sector. At the national level, registration prevalence ranges from 4.5 percent for Social Security Fund to 87.0 percent for administrative sector. Although registration level is in the same vicinity for all rural provinces, Kigali City is characterized by substantially higher registration levels at Social Security Fund, RRA and RDB.

Chapter Two: Census Methodology

2.1 Objectives

The 2011 Establishment Census is designed to achieve the following objectives:

1. To produce a comprehensive and updated data profile of all economic activities practiced by establishments operating in Rwanda;
2. To provide detailed tabulations about the establishments' characteristics, e.g. geographical location, number of employees, registration status, legal status, ownership, sector, manager/owner gender;
3. To produce data necessary to classify establishments according to size into Micro, small, middle, large and very large;
4. To lay out the data foundation needed to identify formal and informal economic sectors in Rwanda;
5. To help establishing a Business Register that can be utilized in carrying out future economic sample surveys and creating comprehensive data base and Geographic Information System (GIS) of the business community in Rwanda.

2.2 Concepts and Definitions

1. Establishment

It is an enterprise or part of an enterprise with constant site, performing one or more economic activity under one administration. Holder of the establishment could be natural or nominal person or governmental body.

Accordingly, elements of the establishments are: a. Constant site; b. Practice of economic activity; c. Holder (natural or nominal).

If the establishment:

- 1) Practices its activity in more than one place, whether it was identical, integrated or similar activity, and no separate data are available, all places are treated as one establishment, so long as the holder is the same.
- 2) Practices more than one activity in one or several places, each activity will be treated as separate establishment, as long as there is separate account for each activity.
- 3) In case data could not be separated for each activity, then it will be treated as one establishment and the predominant activity will be considered as the main activity of the establishment.

4) If there were many holders practicing their activities in one place, each holder's establishment is considered separate establishment, even if the activity was the same.

5) Establishment definition does not include:

- Street Vendors
- Taxis and Motor drivers
- Roads and buildings construction sites
- Temporary booths
- Closed stores of establishments without workers.

2- Working status

a. Working establishment:

The establishment in which workers practice one or more economic activity.

b. Closed temporarily :

The establishment that practices an economic activity, the prerequisites of carrying out this activity are available and employs workers, but it is temporarily closed for the duration of the census for any reason (maintenance, decoration, travel of holder ... etc.). Fortunately, all temporarily closed establishments were captured during subsequent visits of the interviewers.

c. Closed Permanently :

The establishment that stopped practicing its works for any reason (bankruptcy, desire of holder to leave work ... etc.), and obviously it does not have any workers practicing any economic activity.

3- Working Place

The purpose of this question is to distinguish establishments operating in well-known local market places and those operating outside market places. Generally local market is surrounded by a wall and has one or more entrance, in which several establishments exist. Example of local market is NYAMIRAMBO market.

4- Sector

a- Household sector

It is a business establishment owned and run by one or more household members for their own benefit. This type of establishment does not hire wage workers on a regular basis, rather regular workers are either own-account or unpaid family workers.

b- Private sector

It is a non-governmental institution which provides health care services in Rwanda. Such institutions are owned and run by one, a group of people irrespective of their nationality or non-governmental organizations. #### i- International organization

It includes establishments that practice diplomatic or consular activity for other countries (e.g. embassies, consulates ... etc.), it also includes establishments affiliated to regional and international organizations e.g. UNDP, UNICEF, AfDB.

5- Ownership nationality

The purpose of this question is to measure the structure of establishment ownership in Rwanda, i.e. whether the capital is totally owned by Rwandan citizens or Rwandan organization; joint ownership with other countries businessmen, organizations, or governments; or entirely owned by foreign investors or organizations. It is important to point out, in this context, that ownership refers to capital (fixed assets and operating capital) not to the premises ownership which may be rented from Rwandan citizens or organizations.

6- Major Economic Activity

This is the type of actual work practiced by the establishment, whether it is relevant to goods production or service providing, regardless of the establishment sector or ownership. The key economic activity practiced by the establishment should be written by the enumerator in detail, as shown in the examples given below. In this regard, it is not necessary that the name of the establishment expresses the actual economic activity practiced. This as well as other questions must be completed by the owner or the officer in charge. In case when the establishment practices several economic activities, only the activity which is practiced most of the time is reported as the major economic activity.

It is necessary to report the economic activity in detail, which best describes and classifies this activity in accordance with International Standard Industry Classification (ISIC) (e.g. retail trade in textiles, wholesale trade in building materials, manufacturing of cement blocks, men's tailoring, video tapes rental, sanitary ware installation, engineering consultation, providing educational services, providing legal consultation ... etc.).

7- Legal Status

According to the law, the legal status of business establishments takes the following forms:

1- Sole Proprietorship: It is a Private establishment/enterprise in which the owner is a single person.

2- Limited by shares: It is an establishment/enterprise in which the liability of shareholders is limited to the total value of subscribed shares, whether paid or not.

- The amount paid by shareholders or the amount agreed to pay on the shares held by them.
- The security issued by shareholders equivalent to the amount agreed as surety in case of going out of business.

5- Unlimited: It is a private establishment/enterprise formed on the principle of having no limit placed on the liability of its shareholders (owners).

6- Others: This category includes all non-profit associations and governmental establishments whether for profits or not.

8- Registration:

Establishments can be registered in one or more of the following registration types:

1- Social Security Fund: Within eight days after the date in which the establishment hires one or more workers, the employer must submit a registration application to the Social Security Fund. If one enterprise has several establishments, each with separate accounts, the employer establishes a separate registration application for each establishment.

2- Rwanda Revenue Authority: The Rwanda Revenue Authority was established under law N° 15/97 of 8 November 1997 as a quasi-autonomous body charged with the task of assessing, collecting, and accounting for tax, customs and other specified revenues.

The principal tax administration agency is Rwanda Revenue Authority.

An individual, companies which receives profits generated from their activities are requested to make their annual tax declaration to the Tax Administration, accompanied by the balance sheet, profit and loss account for that taxable period .

3- Rwanda Development Board: The Rwanda Development Board (RDB) is the principal Government Agency responsible for helping investors to realize their investment projects in Rwanda. The Registrar's office at RDB acts as a one-stop shop which takes care of all formalities relating to the startup of the business in Rwanda.

4- Districts: According to their size, some establishments may be registered at the district authority instead of being registered in RDB.

5- Sector: A small establishment can be registered at sector authority.

6- Rwanda Cooperative Agency: Rwanda Cooperative Agency registers cooperatives that are operating in Rwanda.

9. Type of taxes

1- Value Added Taxes (VAT): Any establishment which carries out taxable activities exceeding twenty million Rwanda Francs (20,000,000 RWF) in the previous fiscal year, or five million Rwanda Francs (5,000,000 RWF) in the preceding calendar quarter is required to register for VAT with the tax administration within a period of seven (7) days from the end of the year or from the end of the quarter under consideration.

Any establishment which is not required to register for VAT according to the provisions of above paragraph may voluntarily register with the tax administration for VAT.

2. All persons engaged in a business activities, professional or vocational occupation, except when such taxpayers have an annual turnover not exceeding one million two hundred thousand (1.200.000 RWF).

11- Capital Employed

The Capital employed is defined as the value of fixed assets plus current assets minus current liabilities. In other words, the capital employed is the value of the assets that contributes to the establishment ability to generate revenue. When the establishment maintains regular accounts/records the capital employed is valued as of the beginning of the present fiscal year. In case if there are no regular accounts/records available at the establishment the capital employed is estimated, at the market price, in the time of the interview.

12- Number of employees according to education qualification, gender, nationality and contract type

1- Education qualification

- Without qualification: A person without qualification is the one who has not gone to school at all or who has not finished the primary School.
- Primary school: A person with a primary school qualification is the one who has finished with success the last year (6,7, 8 ) of the primary School; or the person who has not finished the secondary school after being enrolled in such educational level.
- Secondary school: A person with secondary school qualification is the one who has the secondary school certificate. If that person has done some university studies without acquiring any qualification, he/she will still be considered as secondary school qualified.

2- Type of contract

- Permanent worker: a worker hired for a fixed-term or an unspecified period that lasts more than six (6) consecutive months with the same employer;

-Temporarily worker: a worker hired for a short period of time not exceeding six (6) consecutive months to carry out regular activities;

13- Establishment type

a. Head office

When an enterprise has several branches located in different parts in the country, the head office includes the managerial staff for this enterprise. In addition to management, the head office may practice other economic activities such as sale and advertisement. The head office is generally located in a different place from that of the branches; however, it can be located within the same premises as of one of its affiliated branches. In the latter case, it will be considered separate establishment so long as it maintains separate records than that of the branches and has a working place which can be distinguished from that of the branch.

b. Single unit establishment:

This is a stand-alone establishment which does not belong to any bigger enterprise whether located in Rwanda or abroad.

c. Branch of national enterprise

It is an establishment which belongs to a bigger enterprise (i.e. having several branches). The head office of such enterprise must be located inside Rwanda.

d. Branch of international enterprise

It is an establishment which belongs to a bigger enterprise (i.e. having several branches). The head office of such enterprise must be located outside Rwanda

2.3 Census Questionnaire

In view of the Census objectives, the questionnaire has been designed in English and translated into Kinyarwanda. Several tests have been performed on the questionnaire: This include, the feedback from the trainees in the Central training at Kigali, a formal pre-test that was conducted immediately after the central training; the feedback from the trainees in the local training centers. The final version of the questionnaire was developed in Kinyarwanda and translated back into English (see Appendix).

2.4 Organizational Structure

a- Steering Committee: The steering Committee is formed from representatives of the four organizations participating in the census project--MIFORTRA, MINICOM, PSF and NISR. The Census manager attends the Steering Committee meetings so as to report on the work progress in a regular basis. The Final version of the questionnaire as well as the work plan have been discussed and endorsed by the Steering Committee. Likewise, the Major census results were presented and ratified by the Steering Committee in its last meeting.

b- Census Manager: Being the census implementing Agency, NISR has appointed one of its senior staff members to be the Census manager with a mandate to supervise and follow up the census execution in all its stages.

c- Census Coordinators: Two census coordinators have been appointed to assist the Census Manager in a full-time basis. One coordinator is responsible for the technical side (Technical Coordinator) and the other for the administrative side (Administrative Coordinator).

d- Field Supervisors: Some Ten Field Supervisors have been appointed for about three months with the responsibility of supervising the work in the areas assigned to each of them. The field supervisors report directly to the Census Manager. The Geographic distributions of field supervisors was such that: Three in Kigali City (one for each district); two in the Eastern Province; one in the Southern Province; three in the Western Province; and one in the Northern Province.

e- Field work Teams:

A number of forty three field teams have been formed to carry out the data collection operation. Each team is composed of enumerators, a field editor and the team leader. In many cases one district is assigned to one team. However, two teams or even more were designated to several districts depending on the anticipated number of establishments in such large districts. The team leader was requested to provide a weekly progress report to his/her field supervisor.

2.5 Training

-Training of trainers: A two-day training session was administered to Field supervisors. The training took place at the PSF Premises in Kigali in the period 17-18 January 2011. The purpose of this training is to train senior field personnel who were going to be responsible for the field work in provinces and districts. In addition they would bear the responsibility of conducting local training sessions to train enumerators working in their respective areas. An evaluation True/False test was given to trainees at the end of the session. Immediately after this training a pre-test was conducted.

- Training of enumerators: Five local training centers were set up in the capital cities of all provinces. Trainers in each center were those who had attended the ToT program. The training took place in the period 31/1/2011 to 3/2/2011. Based on an evaluation test the trainees who obtained higher score were appointed as field editors.

- Training of coders: Like almost all censuses, most of census questions are either self-coded or pre-coded. Only two data items needed coding after data collection. The first item is the administrative identification information and the second is the economic activity. Enumerators were given an administrative coding book pertinent to their work assignment areas and they were requested to insert the administrative codes into the designated coding boxes in the questionnaire. Yet, In view of the tremendous importance of economic activity coding, the census management has decided that the latter coding be carried out centrally in Kigali by a specially recruited team, after giving this team an intensive training program on the coding procedures of the International Standard Industry Classification (ISIC-Ver. 4) that has been applied. The training which took place in the period 22-25/2/2011 was attended by nearly 40 people. Several examples and exercises were given to trainees. In addition, as a part of the practical training, trainees were requested to perform economic activity coding to the completed pre-test questionnaires. The results were then discussed with trainees and everyone was made aware of the correct coding if he/she has done otherwise.

2.6 Pre-test

Following the training of trainers program, the pre-test was undertaken in both urban and rural areas. It was carried out in three districts. The key objectives of the pre-test was to test the procedures of data collection starting from delineating the village boundaries; drawing a sketch map for the village; preparing a list of the establishments and locating them on the sketch map and finally completing census questionnaire. Some villages including market places were considered in the pre-test, which has proven useful to figure out how many establishments the enumerator can complete in a day whether inside or outside market places. The census management has received feed backs from the field teams which have been accounted for in the main field work.

2.7 Data Collection

With the aim of avoiding omissions and/or duplications the enumerators followed a rigorous approach in enumerating all establishments in a village. A thorough and systematic canvassing of the whole village was performed by the enumerator before completing the Census questionnaires.

Step 1) In the first working day, the enumerator started with identification of the village boundaries and illustration of a sketch map showing these boundaries. This indicated whether one or two banks of a boundary are included in the village.

Step 2 (Boundaries): Boundaries are then allocated a number, with the first being selected in such a way that the whole village is located on the right hand side (B1 on the Illustrative Diagram of village canvassing). Whilst walking along this boundary, the enumerator lists the establishments along the right bank by entering their serial numbers on the sketch map and on the wall right to the entrance as well as in the Establishment Listing Form of serial numbers, establishment names and establishment addresses. If both banks of the boundary lied in the village, the enumerator returned back on the boundary to count the establishments existing on the other bank of the boundary.

Step 3 (Roads): Once establishments along the boundary are listed, the enumerator enters the first road inside the village from the boundary, counting all establishments on the right bank of this boundary followed by the establishments on the left bank (R1 on the Illustrative Diagram). After counting, listing and locating on the sketch map each of the establishments on the road (R1), the enumerator enters the first branch on the right hand side (R2) following the same process, and then carries the same out for all other branches. When all roads and branches associated with the boundary (B1) are finished, the enumerator continues the process from the next boundary (B2). However attention is paid to the possibility that some of the establishments may have already been counted (for example R3 has already been counted as an associated branch of R1). In the case of a market place that include several establishments, the enumerator need not to locate on the sketch map each and every establishment present in the market, instead writing a range of serial numbers and filling in the listing form for each establishment.

2.8 Data Processing

The coding of Economic Activity information has been carried out during the period 28/2 to 8/4/2011. Some 32 coders were recruited and trained to do coding. Almost in parallel with coding, data entry has taken place in the period 8/3 to 6/5/2011 by 32 experienced data entry clerks. Both activities have been executed at the premises of MINICOM.

2.9 Data validation and Table generation

Machine data editing has continuously been performed during and after data entry phase for the purpose of detecting out-of-range and/or inconsistent data values. Appropriate actions have been taken to cope with any doubtful data and to introduce necessary corrections. In many cases follow up contacts with the establishments were made in order to verify previously reported data. Upon producing the clean data file, statistical tabulations have been generated. The subsequent chapters present the census tabulations which have previously been planned for.

Chapter Nine: Formal/ Informal Sector definition in Rwanda

I-Introduction

The 15th International Conference of Labor Statisticians (ICLS) of ILO, 2000 has defined the Informal Sector enterprises on the basis of the following criteria:

- a- They are private unincorporated enterprises, i.e. enterprises owned by individuals or households that are not constituted as separate legal entities independently of their owners, and for which no complete accounts are available that would permit a financial separation of the production activities of the enterprise from the other activities of its owner(s). Private unincorporated enterprises owned and operated by individual household members or by several members of the same households, as well as unincorporated partnerships and co-operatives formed by members of different households, if they lack complete set of accounts,
- b- All or at least some of the goods and services produced are meant for sale or barter, with the possible inclusion in the informal sector of households which produce domestic or personal services in employing paid domestic employees,
- c- Their size in terms of employment is below a certain threshold to be determined according to national circumstances (below 5 employed persons is recommended) , and/or they are not registered under specific forms of national legislation (such as factories' or commercial acts, tax or social security laws, professional group's regulatory acts, or similar acts, laws or regulations established by national legislative bodies,
- d- They are engaged in non-agricultural activities.

The term “enterprise” is used here in a broad sense, referring to any unit engaged in the production of goods or services for sale or barter. It covers not only production units, which employ hired labor, but also production units that are owned and operated by single individuals working on own account as self-employed persons, either alone or with the help of unpaid family members. The activities may be undertaken inside or outside the enterprise owner's home, and they may be carried out in identifiable premises, unidentifiable premises or without fixed location. Accordingly, self-employed street vendors, taxi drivers, home-based workers, etc. are all considered enterprises.

In the light of the above, Formal sector enterprise comprise corporations, non-profit institutions, unincorporated enterprises owned by government units, and those private unincorporated enterprises producing goods or services for sale or barter which are not part of the informal sector.

Table 1 summarizes the ILO distinction between formal and informal enterprises on the basis of above mentioned criteria

Table 9.1: The ILO distinction between Formal and Informal sectors

Criterion	Formal Sector	Informal Sector
Complete accounts	Yes	No
Employment size	5+	1-4
Registration	Yes	No
Production of goods/services for sale or barter in non-agricultural activities	Yes	Yes

II- Criteria of defining formal/informal sectors in Rwanda on the basis of the 2011 Establishment Census

The 2011 Establishment Census has enumerated all functional establishments in Rwanda. The establishment is defined as an enterprise or part of an enterprise with constant site, performing one or more economic activity under one administration. Holder of the establishment could be natural or nominal person or governmental body. An enterprise, on the other hand, is either a stand alone establishment or a multi- branch entity; each of such branches is considered an establishment. An enterprise rather than establishment is the unit which has been used for the definition of Formal/Informal sector in Rwanda.

The 2011 establishment Census comprises several data items that can be utilized in creating an objective and evidence-based definition of formal/informal economic sectors in Rwanda. These data items include:

- 1- Registration at Rwanda Revenue Authority (RRA): registration is verified if the enterprise pays any of VAT, TPR or Income taxes.
- 2- Whether the enterprise maintains regular operational accounts: the regular operational accounts are indispensable in compiling all other accounts such as profit/loss account, balance sheet, etc.
- 3- Total number of employed workers: employment includes self-employed, employers, unpaid family workers and hired employees.
- 4- Production of goods/services for sale or barter: This data item has not specifically been included in the Establishment Census questionnaire. Nonetheless the Industry Classification (ISIC-R 4) of the enterprise main economic activity has been used as a proxy to determine whether the enterprise produces goods/services for sale or barter.

In view of above data items the criteria of defining formal/Informal sectors in Rwanda are presented in Table 2.

Criterion	Formal Sector	Informal Sector
Regular Operational accounts	Yes	No
Employment size	5+	1-4
RRA registration	Yes	No
Production of goods/services for sale or barter in non-agricultural activities	Yes	Yes

III- Options of Formal/Informal sector definitions in Rwanda

Option 1 (All criteria combined): Formal sector definition according to option 1 incorporates all the criteria presented in Table 2. In other word, the establishment belongs to the formal sector if it maintains regular operational accounts, contains 5 or more workers and registered at RRA. Failure to satisfy one or more of these conditions puts the establishment in the informal sector. Table 3 presents the formal/informal distribution of enterprises according to option 1.

Table 9.3: Formal/Informal distribution of enterprises according to option 1(all criteria combined)

Sector	Number	Percentage
Formal	1926	1.7
Informal	114489	98.3
Total	116415	100.0

Apparently applying all mentioned criteria combined in defining formal sector has resulted in a relatively smaller number of formal sector enterprises. For this reason it is almost a common practice in other countries to relax one of the criteria mentioned above (particularly the employment size) and to use only the other two criteria for the purpose of formal/informal sector definitions. The reason why employment size is viewed as less important in defining formal sector is that several small establishments are really part of the Formal economy such as pharmacies, doctors/accountants/layers offices though they have less than 5 workers. In addition with advanced technology and mechanization smaller number of workers can run a business efficiently.

Option 2 (RAA registration & Regular operational accounts): Formal sector definition with option 2 incorporates registration at RRA and maintaining regular operational accounts. Table 4 presents formal/informal distribution of enterprises according to option 2

Table 9.4: Formal/Informal distribution of enterprises according to option 2(RRA registration and maintenance of regular operational account)

Sector	Number	Percentage
Formal	5420	4.7
Informal	110995	95.3
Total	116415	100.0

Option 3 (Registration at RRA and employment size): Formal sector definition with option 3 incorporates registration at RRA and employment size. Table 5 presents formal/informal distribution of enterprises according to option 3.

Table 9.5: Formal/Informal distribution of enterprises according to option 3(RRA registration and employment size)

Sector	Number	Percentage
Formal	2580	2.2
Informal	113835	97.8
Total	116415	100.0

Option 4 (Registration at RRA and modified employment size): Formal sector definition with option 4 incorporates RRA registration and modified employment size; the employment size is modified to encompass not only enterprises with the size of 5+ workers but also establishments with the size of 1-4 workers pending upon registration at RRA and maintenance of regular operational accounts by such smaller enterprises. Table 6 presents formal/informal distribution of enterprises according to option 4.

Table 9.6: Formal/Informal distribution of enterprises according to option 4(RRA registration and modified employment size)

Sector	Number	Percentage
Formal	6074	5.2
Informal	110341	94.8
Total	116415	100.0

In a workshop held at MINICOM in the last week of May 2011, the participants have endorsed option 4 to be followed for Formal/Informal sector definition in Rwanda.

IV- Main characteristics of formal/informal sectors under above definition options

Tables 7 exhibits the disparity between formal and informal sectors under the different definition options, with regard to several aspects which are independent of the definition criteria. Yet, such aspects are expectedly associated with definition criteria and hence would measure the extent at which the implied criteria differentiate formal from informal sector.

Average employment size: All definition options show tangible disparity in the average employment size per establishment between formal and informal sectors. However, the disparity is greatest for options 1 and 3, as the formal sector in both options is confined to enterprises with 5+ workers.

Percent of establishments with 10+ workers: Again great difference in the percent of establishments with 10+ workers between formal and informal sectors is demonstrated. The difference is highest in options 1 and 3 for the same reason mentioned above.

Percent of total employment: In all definition options, the overwhelming majority (more than 70%) of working force are engaged in the informal sector.

Average employed capital: Defined as the difference between the establishment's assets and liabilities, the employed capital shows greatly unexpected variation between formal and informal sector under all definition options. The average establishment's employed capital of the informal is substantially above that of the formal sector. In fact there is no explanation of this odd result other than a higher underreporting of employed capital in the formal compared with the informal sector impacts employed capital data. In addition, a substantial number of establishments (1379) amounting to 1.2% of all enterprises have not reported their employed capital. The level of missing employed capital is much higher in formal sector: it ranges from 5.9% under options 2 and 4 to 8.5% under option 1, the corresponding figures of the informal sector are 1.0 % and 1.1 % respectively.

Percent of enterprises registered at Social Security, RDB and PSF: Table 7 shows that registration at the mentioned organizations is much more prevalent in the formal sector under all definition options.

Table 9.7: Selected characteristics of formal/informal sectors corresponding to the four definition options

Economic activity: Table 8 shows the percentage distribution of enterprises according to economic activity in formal and informal sectors under different definition options. The table indicates that more than half of the enterprises (55.1 %) are engaged in the wholesale and retail trade; repair of motor vehicles and motorcycles. The prevalence of this activity is slightly higher in the informal sector under options 2 and 4, and greatly higher under options 1 and 3. The second important economic activity is Accommodation and food service activities which accounts for 28.4 % of all enterprises. The prevalence of this activity is higher in the informal sector under all definition options with a wider gap in options 2 and 4.

Geographic distribution: Table 9.9 presents the percentage distributions of enterprises according to province, by formal and informal sectors under different definition options. The profound finding exhibited in this table is that the formal sector establishments concentrate in Kigali City. The percentage of formal sector establishments ranges in Kigali from 49.02% under option 2 to 56.6 % under option 3. Moreover, the percentage of informal enterprises is again highest in Kigali and lowest in the Northern Province under all definition options.
